

The Corps Network Participates in Public Lands Summit

22 October 2010

The Corps Network, along with member organizations Student Conservation Association, Los Angeles Conservation Corps, Conservation Corps of North Bay, Montana Conservation Corps, American Youth Works, and Southwest Conservation Corps, participated in a national summit with the Public Lands Service Coalition concerning the implementation of a 21st Century Conservation Corps.

President Obama and Interior Secretary Salazar have pushed to include more youth in plans for our nation's public lands, and this summit was a discussion between youth corps from across the country and the land management agencies that oversee the public lands. Agency staff from the White House Council on Environmental Quality, Department of Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, Bureau of Land Management, National Park Service, Fish and Wildlife Service, US Army Corps of Engineers, US Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, Department of Labor, and the Corporation for National and Community Service met with corps staff to plan how best to get our nation's youth into the outdoors.
